

A kitchen designed for forever

Our clients were on a mission to transform their kitchen as part of creating their forever home.

Following a recommendation from family, they trusted our team to bring their vision to life - and that is exactly what we did!

Before the transformation

When the customers first moved into their home, the existing kitchen felt small, outdated and no longer suited to family life.

Creating a more spacious and practical layout was a priority, with storage high on the wish list.

By extending and reconfiguring the kitchen space, we were able to introduce a much more functional design with plenty of clever storage solutions.

The finished space

The customers were eager to bring natural, outdoor-inspired elements into the room.

The rich fern green finish creates a warm, earthy feel, paired beautifully with Natural Bianco Lasa porcelain worktops. These offer the elegant look of natural stone with the practicality needed for a busy family kitchen.

"An exceptional experience from start to finish. From the moment we walked through the door, the service was first class."

Details that make the difference

The standout features of this space have to be the generous corner pantry with maximum storage, the island with seating that works perfectly for family life and the open shelving to display favourite pieces.

"If you're considering a new kitchen, do yourself a favour and pay them a visit. You won't regret it."
